Lao Law and Consultancy Group (LLC) on Thursday donated 10 computers, six printers, notebooks and other equipment to the Ministry of Natural Resources and Environment.

The donation worth about 50 million kip will help the ministry's Department of Geology to expand its capacity.

The department was recently transferred from the Ministry of Energy and Mines to the Ministry of Natural Resources and Environment. It plays a pivotal role in overseeing exploration and prospecting of mining activities in the country.

The computers and technical equipment will be distributed to provincial offices to ensure that effective communication and information technology standards are maintained.

"As mining activities continue to grow, it is important to ensure that the relevant governing bodies have suitable equipment and technology to effectively oversee, monitor and manage the country's vast geological resources," LLC Director Ms Sirisopa Xayavong said.

She added that the LLC hopes the equipment will further facilitate and enhance strong economic growth in Laos.
